ADAPTIVE RE-USE: TRANSFORMING MELBOURNE'S INDUSTRIAL PAST

A self-guided audio walking tour

Listen to four of Melbourne's leading architects talk about how they transformed derelict industrial and mercantile buildings into vibrant, award winning spaces.

1. PRINCES WALK VAULTS
2. SIGNAL
3. IMMIGRATION MUSEUM
4. GOODS SHED NORTH

Begin at Princes Walk Vaults and listen to architect Mark Healy from Six Degrees talk about the project that brought us Riverland Bar.

Walk along the river to Signal, a new youth arts space in a disused signal box and hear Chelsea Scanes from the City of Melbourne.

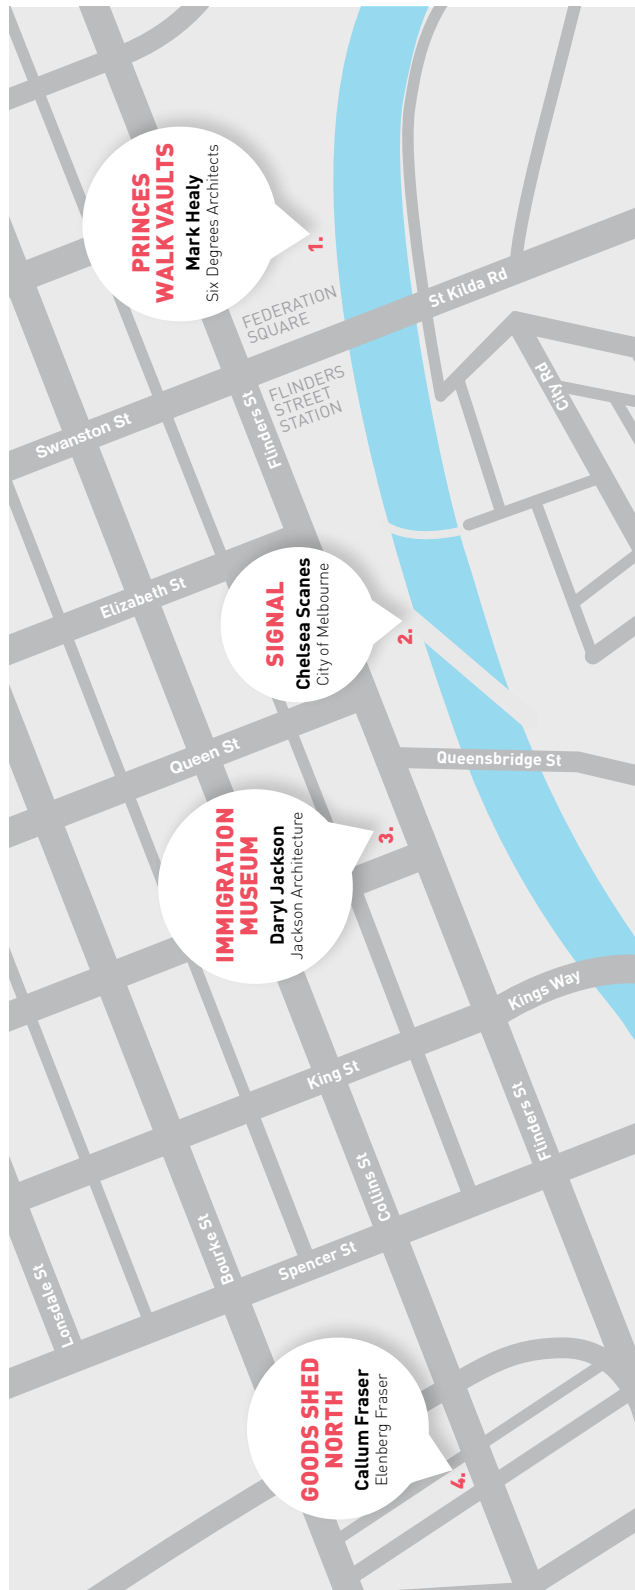

From there it's a short walk to the Immigration Museum, formerly the Old Customs House, where Daryl Jackson from Jackson Architecture will guide you through its transformation.

Finally, head towards Goods Shed North to hear Callum Fraser from Elenberg Fraser describe the revitalisation of the Goods Shed.
